OKALOOSA DEPUTY INJURED IN SHOTING

An Okaloosa County deputy is currently undergoing treatment at a Pensacola Hospital after being injured while trying to take a suspect into custody on multiple warrants in Santa Rosa County.

Investigator Steve Hough of Fort Walton Beach was working this afternoon as part of the U-S Marshals Service Regional Fugitive Task Force. Hough was taken by ambulance to a hospital in Milton and then transported by medical helicopter to Pensacola where he is currently in stable condition. Deputies on scene say he suffered apparent wounds to his legs and face when the suspect came out of the home on Camille Gardens Circle and began shooting.

The suspect was also injured and is being taken to a hospital for treatment.

More information will be released as it becomes available.
